

Authorization Form

DISCLOSURE STATEMENT: The purpose and general goal of the consultation offered by Jennifer Lee is to educate the client about their animal's body systems in relation to function and ability pertaining to maintenance of overall homeostasis (balance) through the removal of various obstacles to their health, thereby encouraging their body's own natural healing processes. Jennifer Lee does not function as a veterinarian by diagnosing disease, treating disease, or performing invasive procedures, nor do her services replace that of a traditional licensed allopathic veterinarian.

The information offered by Jennifer Lee is intended to provide general guidance. Nothing on the website or during a consultation constitutes traditional allopathic veterinary advice. Always consult with a licensed veterinarian before undertaking any course of "treatment" for your animal or changing treatments or medications your veterinarian has already prescribed. This consultation will hopefully suggest additional options to consider, and other areas to explore based on your animal's condition.

I, as a mature adult, have read the DISCLOSURE STATEMENT and understand its contents and the limits of these services. I voluntarily seek these services for my animal and assume full responsibility for this decision. Completing and submitting this form constitutes my legal signature and acceptance of the services offered by Jennifer Lee, which will stand for the initial consultation date and for all subsequent consultations. I have read and agree with the DISCLOSURE STATEMENT:

AUTHORIZATION / WAIVER

1. Jennifer Lee is a natural health counselor who is legally able to instruct and educate others in self-help methods of animal health such as the use of proper exercise, nutritional supplements, water, sunshine, fresh air, rest and attitude.
2. Jennifer Lee in no context of the phrase "practices medicine" and therefore does not diagnose, prescribe, treat, administer, cure, heal or otherwise perform a duty that is reserved for those who are licensed to do so.
3. The instruction concerning a healthy lifestyle for your pet is incidental to any particular illnesses and disease he/she may have and is therefore not made in direct reference to these.
4. Any healing of illnesses or disease your pet may experience as a result of following the instruction of Jennifer Lee was purely the result of the body itself once a naturally correct way of living was employed, for it is only the body that heals itself, not any person.
5. No claims or guarantees have been made as to any health benefits that may result from my following the instruction given by Jennifer Lee, concerning a naturally correct way of living for your pet.
6. The instruction given by Jennifer Lee, in no way replaces proper veterinary medical care, and I am free to choose a natural lifestyle for my pet.
7. Under penalty of perjury I am not an agent of any branch of the federal, provincial or local government for any agency thereof, with intent to entrap or entice Jennifer Lee, her staff, employees and/or associates into breaking any federal, provincial or local law whatsoever, acting either on my own behalf or on behalf of the agency of the government or on behalf of any government agency directly
